THE TEST THAT TELLS

Is the Test Of Time. Many Norway People Have Made This Test

Years ago this Norway citizen told in a public statement, the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills. The statement is now confirmed—the testimony complete. Instances like this are numerous. They doubly prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills. Can any Norway reader demand more convincing proof? It's Norway testimony—it may be investigated.

C. E. Bradford, prop. of laundry, Main St., says: "For some time I had a dull pain through the small of my back, together with a tired feeling. I couldn't rest well either, when a friend advised me to take Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply at F. P. Stone's Drug Store. After I used two boxes, the pains and other symptoms disappeared and there was a great improvement in every way. I have had no kidney trouble since."

Four years later Mr. Bradford added: "I still have confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills as it hasn't been necessary for me to use a kidney medicine since I took them."

"THERE'S A MOUSE IN THE MEAL"

"When the old cat's away, the mice will play." We've always heard it said that way: We see this truth on every hand: Unchallenged therefore, let it stand.

Our cat looked off on other fields. That mice in great abundance yield. And thought, "Ah me! a great work is there! Should they not have my watchful care?"

And so he went, intent on good. To clear the mice, as good cats should. Of course, the traps were set at home. To catch dirty mice that chance might roam.

But traps can't watch or follow mice. So here's what happened in a trice: The mice, to feast, rushed here with speed. For watchful cat, how great our need!

So great the feast, they thought, perhaps, "What use have we for the bait on traps? We'll eat, and eat, and then destroy; We'll show that cat we are no toys."

The cat returns, but we are o'er run; Behind the mischief that has been done! The golden meal unfit for use. The sacks, gnawed up, show great abuse.

God gave the sun for grain to grow. He sent the rain. His care to show; He tolled from light till set of sun. That grain fit for meal, should become.

And now the mice, on mischief bent, Have spoiled that on which such care was spent. But simply live for lust and greed. Oh, mice beware, you've gone too far.

You've done too much the good to me. Now surely swiftly you must go. For those you wrong, have willed it so. HARK! HARK! HARK!

Let us show you the Edmond Shoe for men. They are made by the Edmond Shoe Company, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, they make just this one shoe, one color, one last, and for that reason are sold for about $2.00 less than the same quality in other makes.

It is the Munson army last, very comfortable because they fit the foot perfectly. We are selling them for $9.00. They will surely be higher. It is a good time to buy shoes now. We will use you right.

The "Autometric" Carburetor

Made by The Yale & Towne Mfg. Co.
STAMFORD CONNECTICUT

Add Years to the Life of Your Motor

AN automobile is propelled by a series of explosions.

Explosions cause engine vibration, and subject it to strains, which may in time lessen the life of your motor unless properly regulated.

Most motors vibrate considerably at intermediate and high speeds, due to unevenness of power in the cylinders caused by poor carburetion. This is particularly noticeable at speeds approximating 30 miles per hour.

The Autometric Carburetor automatically feeds the engine the correct mixture for all speeds for any car. It admits the correct proportions of fuel and air for whatever speed the engine is travelling. A smooth even flow of power at all times.

Engine vibration is thereby reduced to a minimum, avoiding undue wear and tear on your engine and adding years to its life.

And in addition, you get up to 1/4 more mileage from your gasoline, greater flexibility of control in driving, at least 20% less gear shifting and greater comfort in driving.

Let us arrange to have your own garage man equip your car with an Autometric Carburetor on approval.

"A Word" To Housekeepers!

The grocer is a friendly man—his business is a friendly business. He is of SERVICE to his neighbors, because he supplies their daily wants and does it well. The measure of his service is

Supplying the best—
at a fair price—
with maximum convenience to YOU.

Maximum convenience does not mean pushing a bundle into your arms for you to tug home. Neither does it mean selling you an article "just as good."

When a grocer sells you an advertised, trade-marked brand of goods, whether Canned Goods, Teas or Coffee, you are sure of QUALITY goods at a fair price; and when he delivers your goods into your home with a friendly word, instead of a demand for spot cash, he has given you all the service possible.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. A majority of the ill-suffering people today can be traced back to kidney trouble.
The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters, the purifiers, of your blood.
Kidney disease is usually indicated by weakness, sleeplessness, nervousness,
headache, backache, stomach trouble, pain in loins and lower abdomen,
catarrhes, gravel, rheumatism, sciatica,
and lameness.
All these derangements are nature's signals to warn you that the kidneys
need help. You should use

WANDERING LONE WOLFE

Last July we mentioned seeing a lone canoe man at Moosehead Lake. He left
New York City May 1st with his canoe and had got to Sugar Island, June 28th.
He camped nearby one night and we called on him and he told something of his journey and history. This we have printed. He expected to get out of the wilderness and return to his studies in New York sometime in September. He also promised to write us on his return.
A recent postal card brought from him
the letter that follows:
Greetings Mr. Sanborn: In this world of hurry and confusion, promises, sad to say, are easily made and almost as easily forgotten or put off until suddenly something, sometimes real, sometimes imaginary, reawakes the spirit of the past and shames the slacker to action.
How very fruitless it seems to me now
when in black and white I see the details of a well planned trip representing hours
of thought and meditation and realize then how small are the powers of the composer, as compared with nature, to carry them out. Roaming carefree and with only a general idea of direction certainly seems to me to possess great advantages over the former way.
After our parting at Greenleaf's camp
my trail led around Sugar Island, through Lily Bay and finally down to Greenville
where, acting on your advice, I purchased a Hubbard's map of northern Maine.
Then slowly working my way north again
I passed two wonderful weeks exploring the coasts and shoreline of Moosehead coming out at E. Carry. A two mile carry and the Penobscot waters gave up their beauty. Every bend in the stream seemed to open up new ways to explore and many small streams opened out into a wonderful lake.
I held in a two months' supply of grub
at N. E. Carry and so with only a wandering spirit and a pal of mine, my little dog, Chien Blanc, I realized a satisfaction and contentment that all powers of nature in her evil modes could not dispell.
Though it rained and stormed, though the streams were low and the logs were hard, though lost for days and the canoe capsized, yet through it all that feeling of perfect contentment never left me.
In a small condensation of a log, well kept after parting, I can but touch
on some of the incidents.
While camping on Lobster Lake I decided to try fishing on Blood Pond about five miles away. Paddling to the end of Lobster, I left the canoe and cut through the woods and after a long hike many times losing the trail, I reached Blood Pond. Saw a canoe cached on the other side and tried to walk around along shore. Got caught in a terrible bog at the lower end and just managed to get out and back. Shallow water and a bottom of mud which had no end prevented swimming over. Determined to try for trout in spite of all, I searched the shore
and was rewarded by seeing a canoe hung up nicely in a tree. My dog was my only witness but could he speak he would say, "One hundred and twenty minutes passed and thirty-one trout, ten to twelve inches long lay in the bottom of the boat." Ignorance being no excuse of the law, I afterwards was told by a fire warden that 15 trout constituted a day's catch. However, between Chien Blanc and myself we ate them all.
My first shock came however, on returning back to camp to find that somewhere between my camp and Blood Pond was my map. Next day I searched and the following day I searched trying to retrace my steps in that labyrinth of woods. Perseverance however has its reward and the map came back into my possession.
My way lay along what I found was called the Allagash Trail, but my off shoots were many and long. Cangomo-gonne, Umbazookus, Umsaskis will long remain dear to my memory. Allagash Falls, Cusumoc Lake, Rankin Rapids
will always come back to me. Poking up the rushing streams, running the rips and pitches, racing through the roaring rapids
hell-bent for destruction, that is a life
worth living!
When anyone asks me about my canoe trip the first thing they invariably ask is, "Didn't you tip over?" If I should answer in the negative a disappointed look would fit over their face. Knowing this would be so I anticipated their desires and while running the Rankin rapids
in a dark thunderstorm, I made intimate acquaintance with a rock which resulted in a half an hour of the hardest kind of work to drag the things ashore. Luckily
I lost nothing of value and as everything was packed water tight things such as food, camera, films, etc., did not get wet.
Two days of clinging out in a driving rain did not greatly remedy the existing conditions but such is the way of nature and besides so long as my dog could stand
it, I had no kick coming.
It was now getting along in September and though the idea of giving it all up seemed like an impossibility and inwardly condemning society in general for the grip which it, in the name of civilization
and culture places upon us, yet the spirit that moves me to action when the "ice
so goes out" had to bow to the will of society. Therefore, once more do I sit in my study and burn of the midnight oil.
In a boat house down by the river the "Lone Wolf" lies snug in its berth. The rifle stands off in the corner, the bed-roll is packed, something that's missing, the
there is something that's missing, the voice of my only pal, for I left him far up on the St. Johns River when his life up roared my duffle home. His life up there will be sweeter in the wilds where he was reared for he is safe in the hands of a woodsman who will make a worthy master.
And now I must close for the trail
grows dim and the future seems far away.
Remember me kindly to Mr. Owens.

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX DEAD

Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox, author and poetess, died at her home, "The Bungalow" in Branford, Thursday, Oct.
30. Mrs. Wilcox had been ill for some months, having had a nervous collapse
while engaged in war relief work in England.
Mrs. Wilcox's death was not unexpected. Mrs. Wilcox had been constantly under medical care for nine months. During her illness evenings, messages to friends departed of her recovery. She regained in a measure, her strength, and in July was brought to New York and to Branford in fulfillment of a desire to be in her own home, the place where most of her literary work had been done,
and where with Mr. Wilcox she had entertained friends from all over the world.
Mrs. Wilcox was in her 64th year and a native of Johtown Center, Wis. She was married in 1864. Her literary work embraced a large number of books both prose and poetry, and she was a contributor to many publications.
The body was taken to Springfield,
Mass., for cremation, and service held
there.

Music Makes Motherhood a Much Easier Task

There is nothing like the merfy music of the player piano to keep your little ones in sparkling spirits. There is nothing like its soothing strains to hush their childish senses at the hour of the afternoon nap.
If you are a mother you will find the Player Piano an effective means in assisting you to amuse and control your little flock.
It will also help to mould their minds to the better things of life through the influence of music.
It is helpful, restful and beneficial alike to mother and little ones. It is a source of happiness and harmony to the entire household.

He served with the Maine troops in the Civil War and then located in Lynn, Mass., where he became a member of Gen. Landers Post No. 5, G. A. R. and East Lynn, No. 207, I. O. O. F.

Because of the sugar shortage in some restaurants, the little sugar envelope containing two spoonfuls of sweetness have necessarily disappeared. Claim is still out that the situation will be dependent whether there are any limitations on the soaring prices and the supply after Dec. 31.

A bill recently sent to the senate asks for Federal control of commerce in sugar until Dec. 31, 1920. A license is to be issued for sugar dealers is also proposed and those violating regulations of the equalization board would be subject to $5,000 and two years imprisonment. The feeling is that without regulation of some sort, sugar will be advanced to an exorbitant price, a new supply will be obtained from some apparently unforeseen source.

IS THIS YOUR CASE?

What You Should Do—Most Successful and Economical Treatment.

Do you have a feeling of general weakness day in and out? Do you feel appetite poor? Does your food fail to strengthen you and your sleep fail to refresh? Do you find it hard to do your ordinary duties and cares? Have you great tasks and burdens? Do you feel tired and worn out? Do you feel that you are in a state of general debility and that you are in need of a tonic? Do you feel that you are in need of a tonic? Do you feel that you are in need of a tonic?

If so, take Hood's Sarsaparilla. This gives vigor and tone to all the organs and functions, and is unequalled for those who are in any degree debilitated or run down. Do not delay treatment—begin it today.

To rouse the torpid liver and regulate the bowels take Hood's Pills. They are purely vegetable.

WHY GEN. PERSHING'S HORSE WAS HELD IN QUARANTINE

"Kidron," the horse that Gen. Pershing rode to victory in the World War, began his career as a laurel wreath collector by getting in quarantine.

The great commander is playing the leading role in triumph parade in the big cities of the country, his war horse is detained, under observation by Government veterinarians, at Newport News.

It is not that "Kidron," so far as anybody knows, has any "catching disease," but simply that he may have any equine disease, and like every other horse of the A. E. F., must stay at the port of entry for five months, until the Government veterinarians are sure that he is a safe animal to be at large in horse society in the United States.

Naturally, a great many people wanted to see Gen. Pershing mounted on the horse that carried him over the battlefields of Europe during the last fateful days of the world's greatest war. But there are many millions of horse and horse owners in the United States who, respectfully as they feel toward "Kidron," are entitled to protection from any disease that he may have picked up in Europe, where there are many horse diseases of which the United States has thus far, kept clear.

When the appeal was made, without the knowledge of Gen. Pershing, to the United States Department of Agriculture that an exception be made in the case of "Kidron" and that he be allowed to come out of quarantine almost immediately after landing, in order that he might be in Washington for the parade on September 17, a regretful but firm refusal was the result.

The position taken by the Department of Agriculture is that, under no circumstances, can sentiment be permitted to interfere with the protective measures that have been worked out, slowly and sometimes precariously, for the protection of the livestock interests of the country.

If "Kidron" were released from quarantine, he would probably visit scores of cities throughout the country, and if he had a disease, might spread it, beyond all reasonable possibility of eradication. For these reasons the Department of Agriculture thought it wise not to create any sort of favored status for him.

This is not the first time such a situation has occurred. When Gen. Leonard Wood was ready to return from the Philippines, he had two horses that he very much desired to keep with him. The department of Agriculture insisted that safety demanded their detention.

President Roosevelt took a personal interest in the matter, but investigation convinced him of the justice of the department's position, and the horses did not come in.

Friendship and Success
"Do I make friends or enemies?" The answer to this question is also the answer to whether or not I am a success. For success, while depending largely on one's own unsupported efforts, can never be altogether achieved without the incidental help of others. In like manner the downfall of the most successful can easily be accomplished by the sinister designs of those who hate us.

The Spanish have an old proverb to the effect that there is no little enemy. In other words, the bad will of even the humblest and most despised of "little" enemies has often had consequences out of all proportion to the enemy we may have felt.

We never seem to learn the lesson of the value of friends though from childhood's earliest days our parents have sought to instill it into us by song and fable. The lion and the mouse is illustrated daily in life around us. We know from our own personal experience that the friend in need is the friend indeed, though perhaps in the pride of early youth we may have thought the old proverb and stories trite, tiresome and out of date.

"Politeness is the flower of charity" is another old proverb well founded on fact. It costs little to be courteous, considerate of others, deferential to our betters, to use the "kind word which turneth away wrath," to smile instead of frown, it is all a part of true politeness and indeed the result of divine charity. It wins us friends wherever we go, and if there is no little enemy to much the more surely is there no little friend.

Popularity in the ordinary sense in which we hear this word used and abused by those around may seem to have an empty sound, but in its deeper, fuller and truer meaning it is highly to be desired and sought after. To be liked and admired universally is hardly possible for us average human beings, and in one way to have not a single enemy is scarcely to be desired, since it is a sign of a limp and negative personality. Nevertheless, it is sad to see so many young people starting out in life with ruthless indifference to the feelings and sensibilities of those around them, making enemies on all sides.

In youth we are very prone to think that we are sufficient to ourselves. We have our own small interests and pleasures which loom very large and important in our eyes and which we are too ready to embrace the interests and pleasures of others.

Though we may enjoy companionship we seldom seek or value friendship until the coming of the years, their gentle truth upon our characters, to increase our love for our fellowmen and to make us long for and seek their friendship in return.

Bodies of all American soldiers interred in Germany, Belgium, Italy, Great Britain, Luxembourg and Northern Russia will be returned to the United States as soon as necessary transportation can be arranged. Secretary Baker today announced that he had issued instructions to the purchase, storage and traffic division of the general staff to take charge of the matter and to hasten it as much as possible.

This action, Mr. Baker said, did not indicate any change in the department's attitude toward the return of the soldier dead in France. Secretary Baker said it was hoped that the great majority of American parents would decide to let their sons remain there, but that the wishes of the relatives desiring the bodies returned would be carried out.

A counterfeit $1.00 bill has been put in circulation. The counterfeit is a silver certificate of the series of 1899, and while it is regarded by the New England Bureau of the secret service as a poor imitation, it will readily deceive persons who do not examine it closely. Much of the workmanship is poor and the quality of the paper used is inferior, but the big blue numerals are both of excellent color and are nearly perfect.

There Needn't be a Cold Room in the House

A portable Perfection Oil Heater will bring the heat just where you want it, when you want it, and in the volume desired. These brisk Fall mornings and chilly evenings the Perfection is just what the family needs.

Mornings, on arising—in the bathroom—during Fall evenings to make the lower part of the house cozy, a Perfection Oil Heater takes the place of furnace and fireside, supplying heat at a minimum cost. The Perfection is safe, clean, odorless—gives no ashes, soot or trouble. Burns ten hours on a gallon of kerosene, and pays for itself in a short time.

Use SOCONY kerosene for best results.

The New Motor Car

The Greatest Improvement In Riding Comfort Since The Introduction of Pneumatic Tires

HERE is a brand new type of car. It solves the problem which has baffled automotive engineers—how to combine riding comfort with light weight and economy.

Our new Three-Point Cantilever Springs make this possible.

These are the first springs of their kind and they are made of chrome vanadium steel. They are exclusive with Overland.

Because of these springs, Overland 4 combines the riding qualities of large heavy, expensive, long wheelbase cars, together with the advantages and economy of small light cars.

With 100-inch wheelbase, Overland 4 has the luxurious riding ease of 130-inch Springbase.

The exclusive, Three-Point Cantilever Springs cushion the car so that it rides well on all roads; they reduce choppy rebounds and side swaying, protect the car from road shocks and prolong its life, minimize twisting or racking of frame and body, enable the car to hold the road better.

The car and passengers ride smoothly as though floating, free from road shocks that the springs ward off.

But this new riding comfort, possible only with these Three-Point Cantilever Springs, is but one of the advantages of Overland 4.

Its light weight makes possible great economy of gasoline and tires.

High quality materials insure durability. All vital parts of the front axle and steering gear and all highly stressed gears and shafts for driving the car are made of alloy steel.

The equipment list of Overland 4 is high grade, including Auto-Lite Starter and Lighting System—Electric Horn—Marshall Divan Upholstery Springs—Demountable Rims—Three Speed Transmission—Slanting Rain Vision Windshield—Tillotson Carburetor—U. S. L. Batteries and many other high quality conveniences.

In every respect Overland 4 is a quality car. The body is all steel, all enamel, the brightest, hardest, most lasting finish.

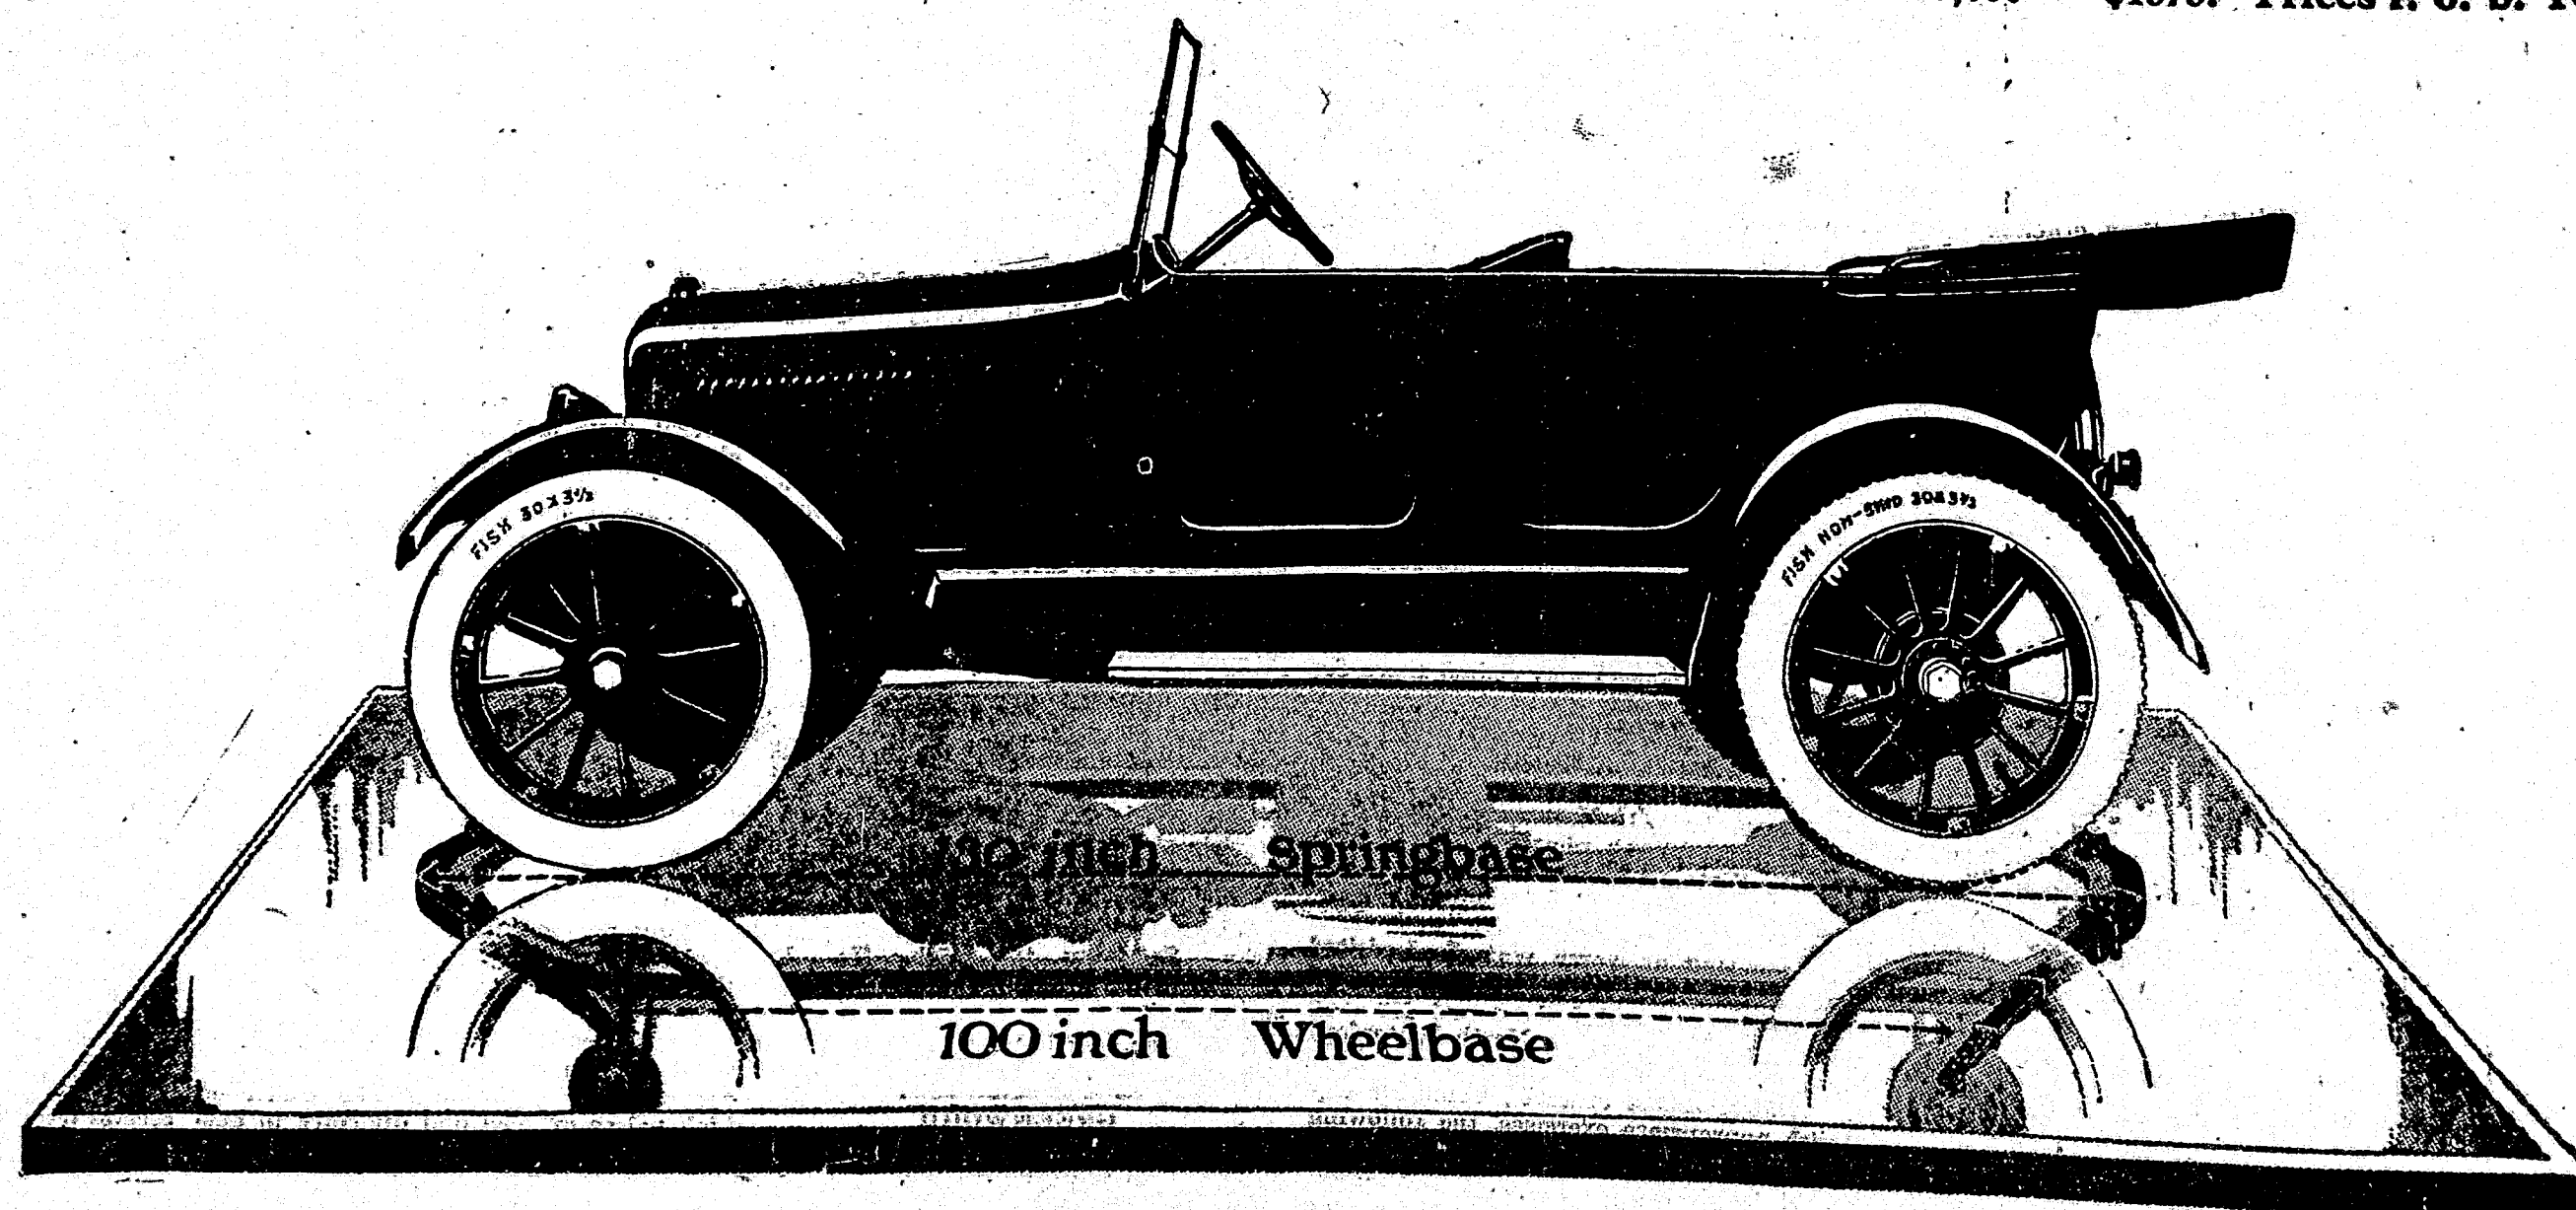

Overland 4 has been tested for two years and more than 250,000 miles over the Rocky Mountains, prairies, through deep mud and scorching deserts—through quick sharp climatic changes. As a result of these tests we were able to judge the car's performance under every condition and to perfect it before offering it to the public.

There is no previous car of any size or price to adequately compare with the character of service Overland 4 introduces.

The farther you ride in it the more you will appreciate it. Come in, see the car and ask for booklet. The demand will be greater than the supply for a long time.

Shot Three Bears

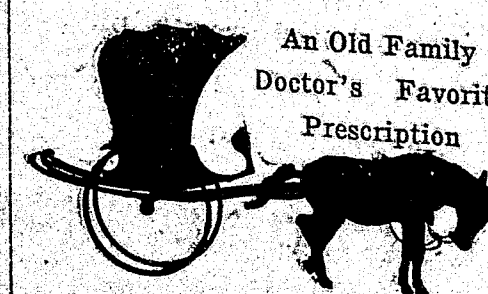

While out looking for wild cattle, W. H. Smith and his nephew found a bear asleep and snoring in a big fir tree. Being without firearms, Mr. Smith acted as custodian while the nephew ran for a rifle. For nearly an hour Mr. Smith kept the bear in the tree by striking together two large stones and emitting savage yells.

It was some time before he discovered two cubs higher in the tree and then he realized that here most certainly would be one wild race if the bear once landed on the ground. With the odds in favor of the bear, Mr. Smith was about to make a quick getaway when the nephew returned with a 32 Winchester. Mr. Smith then coolly picked off all three with his trusty gun.

NEWS FROM LOVELL MAN

(Written by Joseph Andrews, of Ohio)

On June 20th I wrote you of the excessive rain fall in the west, which cut the oat crop acreage about 35 per cent and drowned out about 25 per cent of the corn ground planted and brought trust and blight to the spring wheat fields. About the first of July the rains ceased and since then it has been one of the hottest and driest seasons ever known. The hot weather however, was just what we needed for the corn and our corn crop where not drowned out, is developing ear and nob filled out plump and full and dead rip by the 20th of September and no frost-up to October first.

Oats averaged about 30 bushel per acre of good quality and fair weight. The small amount of wheat so far harvested was almost a failure, the grains being badly shrunken and but few in a head. The threshers would not thresh wheat by the bushel but demanded seven dollars an hour. Oats they charged five cents a bushel for threshing. Farming has been very high for the past two or three years. $75.00 a month and $5.00 a day with board and washing.

The daily papers say that South Dakota is short one thousand school teachers and the offer of $125.00 a month is not bringing them in. Spring Valley Township in which I live, has six school districts, all country schools with an average attendance of about twelve scholars each. And each of the six teachers is paid $100.00 a school month of twenty days or five dollars a day and an 8 month school for a six hour day.

I celebrated my seventy-fifth summer by cultivating corn with a riding cultivator for 21 and 3-4 days. Then after the corn was laid by I spent about two weeks in pulling each burr and wild sun flowers out of the corn field and with sythe and corn knife in cleaning out weeds along 250 rods of woven wire fence.

I also did some painting but did, the hired man did most of the painting in exchange for my work in plowing corn. Together we spread about 30 gal. of Coverall Maroon barn paint over the cow barn, horse barn, two double grainaries and a hay house 32 by 32. I have the paint for the house but will save it for a part of the next summer's job.

About fifteen years ago one lone red fox squirrel came to the farm. He was treated as a pet and given the range of the farm and the privilege of building his house in the top of one of more than a thousand trees growing upon the farm. He soon found a partner and together they thrived and increased in number until they became a nuisance and destroyed large quantities of seed corn and other grain. So last spring I borrowed a twelve barrel shot gun and went on the war path. During the summer have used 79 shot cartridges and have bagged 59 big fat squirrels, 10 rabbits (cottontails) and one crow. As the squirrel is hard to shoot as he jumps from tree top to tree top, I considered myself quite a sport to miss but twenty shots out of 79.

Farmers in the west have been making money for the past few years most of them own tractors and auto trucks to do their plowing and haul their crops to market.

Farm values have gone skyward and land buyers seem to have gone crazy, the way they pay up for farm lands, $360 per acre for a 160 acre farm is the highest I have heard of in this locality. I could have sold my 320 acre farm for $250.00 per acre but it was not on the market. It seems big on paper to read about a sixty or eighty thousand dollar farm, but we who live on and own them realize that the land produces no more per acre than it did forty years ago when this same land was a dog on a market at from ten to twenty-five dollars an acre.

With the high cost of living and high land values, taxes keep crawling higher and higher with ever passing year. When workmen, who are making from $20 to $25 a day as some of the skilled men in the steel mills are, strike for a 60 per cent raise in wages, a six hour day and a five day week there is something as the saying goes "Rotten in Denmark". And it will take the greatest skill of our most eminent statesmen to safely guide our "Grand old ship of State" through the periods of the next few years and land her in a peaceful harbor where freed by education and religion from the evil influence of the anarchist, the I. W. O. Bolshevik and the professional agitator. "Our Star Spangled Banner" in the future as in the past shall continue to wave "O'er The Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave."

The last of August I sold 846 bushels of my last years corn crop for $1.60 a bushel and two weeks later the man I sold to told me that he had just sold the same corn for $1.26 a bushel. Oil corn is now selling at about $1.35 a bushel and oats 58 cents. Potatoes here was almost a failure. They are being shipped in and are selling for about $2.00 a bushel. About the 16th of October I expect to start on my 7th trip for California going by the way of the Santa Fe to Los Angeles and San Diego, where I expect to spend the winter with my sister and other friends and return in the spring by San Francisco and Seattle and the W. P. R. R. to Saint Paul and back to the farm in time to be cultivating another 100 acre corn field. Then perhaps take a little side trip to the Black Hills and a short distance over the state line into Wyoming. Then in August go back to Ohio and from there start on a blueberry raid to old Oxford County, Maine and view probably for the last time the old fishing hole in the old rock bound pasture in Lovell, where I caught my first trout almost 70 years ago.

Isaac P. Noyes

Isaac Patch Noyes, a lifelong resident of Greenwood, passed away at his home Friday, Oct. 31 at the age of 85 years, 8 months and 12 days. Mr. Noyes was the oldest resident of the town, and had carried the Boston Post case for a number of years. He was born Feb. 18, 1834, the son of John and Hannah (Young) Noyes. He was the last survivor of the old Noyes family of eight children. When a lad of about sixteen years, he received an injury to the spine while skating on the ice, that developed into shaking palsy, following him all his days. Owing to this affliction he was unable to serve his country at the time of the Civil War, and it was a source of great disappointment that he could not enlist with his four brothers. Notwithstanding this infirmity, he was a remarkably active man, and a successful farmer.

He married Nov. 16, 1857, Almira J. Herrick of Greenwood, who was formerly a Massachusetts girl. During the first twelve years of their married life they lived on a farm on Patch Mountain, which they sold and bought the farm adjoining the Norway line, where they spent the remainder of their days. Mrs. Noyes passed away seventeen years ago. Five children were born to them: Elmon J. Noyes, a successful physician in Lovell; Mrs. Harriet J. Coolidge of Lockes' Mills; Arthur A. who lives on the home farm, with whom Mr. Noyes made his home, and who with his wife tenderly cared for him in his declining years, Addison J. who died Feb. 4, 1890, and Frank W. of North Norway.

Mr. Noyes gave up active work on the farm about 20 years ago, but had been active until two years ago. Until within a few years he had been a familiar figure in Norway, where he transacted much of his business. Besides his three sons and one daughter, he is survived by seven grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the home in Greenwood. Rev. H. A. Markley, pastor of the Universalist Church at West Paris officiated. The three sons and son-in-law acted as bearers. Interment took place in Pine Grove Cemetery, Norway.
